

Tum-A-Lum Lumber Co. Honored With Membership in the LBM Century Club

Tum-A-Lum Lumber of Oregon has been named to LBM Journal magazine's LBM Century Club, in recognition of the company's 110 years of service to its community.

"We're honoring lumberyards with a century or more of service to their communities and to our industry," says LBM Journal Publisher and Editor Rick Schumacher. "For more than 100 years, these companies have been supplying builders, homeowners and remodelers with building materials—all while providing a livelihood for generations of workers. That's no small thing. The LBM Century Club was created to recognize and celebrate these companies for all they've done, and for standing the test of time."

Since 1906 Tum-A-Lum Lumber Co. has served customers without fail. LBM dealers like Tum-A-Lum Lumber Co. have weathered economic storms with resilience and have adapted to ever-changing trends in housing, business management, environmental requirements and design trends, and have kept communities strong along the way.

Members of the LBM Century Club, which is sponsored by Epicor, will be recognized in LBM Journal magazine and on LBMJournal.com. In addition, members in attendance were also honored at a special reception at the LBM Strategies Conference 2016 in Charlotte, N.C. in September.

About LBM Journal

LBM Journal is the leading media company serving America's lumber and building material industry. Now in its 13th year, LBM Journal delivers the latest information on products, industry trends and business insights via a print magazine, the LBM Alert e-newsletter, and the LBMJournal.com website.